GOP AT CROSSROADS

The loss of the presidential and congressional elections left the Republican party a choice of two courses. It can continue under the conservative leadership that has long directed its policies in congress and thereby run the risk of a still longer losing streak.

It has been assumed that the election results would be the signal for a shakeup, particularly in the senate. But now a story from Washington says that a move in that direction has broken down almost as soon as it started. The liberal GOP senators, it seems, cannot agree on a leader.

There are several intelligent, experienced and forward-looking men in this liberal group. One might think that from a collection of such names as Alben, Flanders, Santolun, Lodge, Ives, Morley and Knowlton, something might have been found who would grab a new broom and start to work. Their reported inability to do so is particularly surprising in view of the compelling reasons why the liberal Republicans should pull together.

If the senate housecleaning has really been abandoned and a good many people are going to be disappointed. It won't encourage the more liberal Republicans, certainly. It won't offer much hope to the faithful party members of conservative outlook who nevertheless would like to see the GOP get back on the winning side by any means. It won't even please those with no strong party leanings who want to see our two-party system kept strong and active.

Unless the GOP liberals get together and try again, the big decision will certainly be up to Senator Taft, the big wheel in the opposition. He has not yet decided what his party's surprising defeat signifies to him, or what he intends to do about it.

One thing is certain. Senator Taft will make his own decision. Though his political philosophy clearly represents a minority view, he sincerely believes in it. He is thoroughly honest and intelligent. His actions are dictated by the highest motives, whatever one may think of the reasoning behind them. The question is how he will reconcile his own strong and influential views with the future of his party.

As one writer put it, the Republican party cannot expect to win by running a liberal presidential candidate on a liberal platform for three months every four years when, in the intervening time, the majority of Republicans in congress repudiate both platform and candidate. Mr. Taft sees and believes that, he might resign his leadership—possibly in favor of Senator Vandenberg. For Mr. Vandenberg has greatly strengthened his party by taking it to a position of coequal leadership with the administration in the fields of foreign affairs. The same thing could be possible in the domestic field without sacrifice of the party's individuality or integrity.

WOULD WE GAIN OR LOSE?

Although there is a difference of opinion on the attempt of federal bureaus to gain control of water resources in the great north-west basin, Cong. John Sanborn gave the people of Idaho something to think about in a talk he made before the Jerome Rotary club recently.

There are some who believe the Columbia valley authority should be established and controlled by the federal government in any event, even though such power would include jurisdiction over all tributary streams including our own Snake river. They feel that such a set-up would be of "greatest benefit to the most people."

There is no denying that the heavy industrial areas in Washington and Oregon are faced with a power shortage, a situation which does not exist in our own immediate vicinity. The government bureau boys are citing this shortage as ample reason why they should walk in and take over.

"Rights now," said Congressman Sanborn, "there are concerted moves afoot to usurp the power resources on the Snake river and convert these to industrial uses in the growing coastal regions of Washington and Oregon."

When the time comes for Idaho to use this power, we may be faced with the danger of putting in steam plants for power because the earlier users on the coast would have won prior right to these resources."

No matter what the people of Idaho may think of federal bureaus and government control, generally speaking, they should be in mind that we might have everything to lose and little to gain from the government taking over our water resources to provide power for other states.

We should never lose sight of the fact that by comparison with Washington and Oregon, we are a weak state politically, and that bureaucrats seeking to keep themselves in power would not be unmindful of that fact. That's why federal regulation of our resources might work to our serious disadvantage.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The supreme court of the United States will probably decide the most severe congressional attack on a president in the history of the country in modern times as a result of the election of President Truman and a Democratic house and senate. It is the belief of many that the court will be upholding the nation's economy because of political bias.

castigation would have been applied by a Republican-controlled body of legislators through passage of two bills declaring that the court's interpretation of law was erroneous and dangerous.

The attack on a tribunal which many MGOs regard as far below par would have been accompanied with floor filibusters at the politicians, professors and former federal officials who sit in state one occupied by Justice Brandeis, Holmes, Cardozo and Taft.

In fact, had Gov. Thomas E. Dewey triumphed and defeated a Republican majority in both legislative chambers, the bombardment of the liberal justice by the right would have provided a spectacular political carnival.

CONDEMNED—The Republicans had expected to see both big business and labor on their feet planning attack against the men in the black robes, for the two questionable decisions involved every strait of the nation's economy.

In both instances the court incurred the anger of such groups as United States Steel and the longshoremen on the one hand, and the Pacific coast. The court's "busting point" decision, which threatens to upset long-established methods of selling such products as steel, has been generally condemned across the plaza on capitol hill.

It has been availed as forcing the U. S. back into a position of economic disadvantage and to recommend a new method of selling and distribution enforced upon it by the Venezuelan edict.

GUNNING—A senate committee headed by Senator Caphart, Ind., has been holding hearings for months on the question. It was prepared to recommend a measure undoing the court's work, together with a suggestion that the eminent black robes should look to their own backs, to their personal, political and economic prejudices.

They were gunning for Justices Black, Douglas, Murphy and Rutledge, the liberal bloc.

THURKE—The other controversial ruling concerned the act of "ousting" on ordering the removal of the men to the head and unload ships at American ports from Boston to Puget sound. It has been held partially responsible for the maritime strike that has paralyzed the harbors, blocked the Marshall ship shipments as well as other necessary importations of our foreign policy.

It is a technical for extended discussion here, the court approved extra and unusual wages for a comparatively small number of nonshoreworkers.

The ironic fact is that the men themselves did not seek and want this bonus. It was demanded by a union which they had broken up and then to encourage as their counsel the firm headed by Ed Flynn, Bronx boss and former Democratic national chairman.

MEASURE—Nobody dreamed that the supreme court would give these claims providing that overtime pay should be computed on the basis of what was ready overtime pay. But it did, to the surprise and dismay of the officials of the unions involved.

A measure to reverse the decision, which would have invalidated that the honorable jurists did not possess even a kindergarten understanding of labor contracts and economic questions, was introduced through congress and signed by the President, provided it was a Republican congress and a Republican President.

OFF—Now, however, both rebukes will be pigeonholed in committees. Even if they reach the floor by any means, they will be defeated. Even if they should be passed by a narrow margin through some legislative miracle, they would be vetoed by President Truman.

So, what might have been a drama only slightly less and anticipated when the court's decision was made, is off the political boards, thanks to the Democratic victory on Nov. 2.

VOTES—Senator Lodge's plan for reorganizing the electoral college has provoked considerable opposition here as a result of its application to the recent 1948 election. The plan would give the states a scheme, each candidate would be entitled to a percentage of each state's electoral ballots, figured out on the basis of the vote in each state.

Thus, if a state had 40 electoral votes, and the popular vote split 50-50, each candidate would be credited with 20 electoral votes. Under the present majority of one vote gives the winner the state's full electoral total.

The Nov. 3 unofficial tally in accord with the conventional system was, pending the electoral college meeting in January, 304 for Truman, 189 for Dewey and 105 for the Third Party—White Union. Under the Lodge formula, it would have been 201 for Truman, 223 for Dewey, 368 for Thurmond and 99 for Wallace, who got no electoral support under the existing plan.

Chief Justice argument is that the Tanke's proposal would tend to throw the decision into the hands of representatives too often.

VIEWSOFOETHERS

ATOM VS. HYDRO

In any discussion of the long-range program for producing the hydro-electric power resources of the Columbia basin, the question is likely to be asked: What about atomic energy? Aren't we spending hundreds of millions of dollars on a source of electric power that will be outmoded and useless in a few years?

It is notable that these questions are not being posed, at least for the present, by atomic scientists or engineers. The day when nuclear fission becomes a large scale source of electric power through huge atomic power plants, is still many years off at best, and experts in the field recognize the possibility that nuclear energy may never be able to compete with hydro-electric power from the standpoint of cost.

Col. William Whipple, chief of the Walla Walla district of the corps of engineers put his finger on the heart of the problem when he stated at Lewiston that "atomic power would have to be produced for less than 2¢ per kilowatt hour before it is economically feasible with hydro-electric energy in the Pacific northwest."

Present estimates of the cost of converting raw uranium ore to electric power through atomic fission are several times that figure, and the best current guess is that although atomic energy may prove very valuable in areas far from the coast, it is not likely to be used to generate power in the Pacific northwest.

This is not to say that scientific advances may not wipe out the cost differential in the future, and that the raw material source of atomic power is being discovered. In view of the rapid pace of science in recent years, anything can happen. But we do suggest that there are many impracticable and uncertain factors in the equation, and that we can not plan our future on the assumption that nuclear energy will supplant all other forms.

The Columbia river development program is based not only on power but also on flood control, navigation and irrigation, all of which are essential to the growth of the region. Even if the power factor were to be discounted completely sometime in the future, the program could be justified. And meanwhile, informed opinion seems to indicate that hydro-electric power will continue to play a vital role for many years to come. Walla Walla Union-Bulletin.

POT SHOTS

ALWAYS AN ORDELYDE

Dear Pot Shot: About a year ago we got that name for our rat. We picked it out somewhere because we liked the sound of it. It was a little bit of a joke in our family. Once it was a spider; once a handsome woman; and once a handsome man.

As for present Ordeleyde, he's a clever, whimsical and shrewd fellow. He's descended from the most famous of the family, the Zerkowitsches, who came over in the hold of the Mayflower, and his pe's folks were the Fernaldes of Boston. He even had an uncle, old Ralstonville Hyde, who was highly educated and a familiar figure to janitors around the halls of Harvard.

Another ancestor, Ralfy Hyde, went through the revolution in a knapsack and claims to have had the honor of chewing a hole in the seat of Paul Revere's breeches. Ordeleyde has led the little rat to spread the holders with kindness down by creek bank. But he'll be back to entertain us. He has many qualities a human might be proud of.

Fuckit.

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR

Dear Mr. Post: Just wondering if you folks over at the newspaper office are getting ready for the turkey which may change your minds about eating turkey? Perhaps you'll see some turkey in the paper.

Or maybe you're changing your minds about buying that new coat for Christmas. Just get some buttons and use the old one for another year. Or that new phonograph. Nope, just get a couple of records.

Just at the time of year when we go broke trying to get some things with a few dollars. TAXES DUE! And it's like paying a year's rent all at once three days. It's a real mess. (Goodbye)

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

At this distance from the recent solemn referendum, the face of the future is less monstrous than it was the morning after.

The smart of President Truman's threatening remarks to the voters, a gallant, a running fire which moved forward, a call to him, rude, uncouth, ignorant man, has been softened by his own qualifications published through his claque at Key West, Washington.

Other motivated news tends to cast frightened reflections upon others who took Mr. Truman at his word. Wendell Willkie was the first presidential candidate to admit that the campaign were deliberate deceptions intended only to impose on the voters.

Mr. Truman obviously shares Willkie's cynicism, for it is plain to see that he is a man of the Wagner act and stand there and that he exaggerated in other matters.

But it was his thespian hatefulness that put him over and scared the voters. He acted like Hitler and when the curtain fell he wasn't mad at nobody.

The Taft-Hartley law will be erased only for the partisan political reason that it is a noble monument to the struggle for freedom of the Republic, who are, in a manner of speaking, too good for this world.

The Truman substitute will start by re-enacting the most urgent reforms planned by Taft and Hartley and eventually will accumulate up to an average of a personal harm, the only provision of Taft-Hartley which was still in debate for the forbiddance of the closed shop.

Elites aside, Mr. Truman showed up as an average of a personal harm, for he shook this decidedly hygienic law before the public for two months and, by the very rap of his voice, it seemed as if he were without discussing any of its provisions.

That was great acting. The fact is, this was a startling stage performance of a man who had begun with the halting speech of a school boy and by the very rap of his voice, a citizen new confidence in him as a same, resourceful Spelvin.

What else could the little guy do? Dwarfed by the double-breasted Haward law, a humble little fellow, undoubtedly an Elk if not an Eagle or an Owl. Mr. Truman personified the awkward middlewestern courtier who had been ridiculed for 30 years by the same proto-communistic papers that cultivate him now.

He was the kind who would put

Nichols Wrong on Estimate of Thanksgiving Cost, He Claims

Editor, Times-News:
This is the evening after Thanksgiving and I must read the same old Thanksgiving articles for which the newspapers and radio are famous these days. Maybe it's because I haven't recovered from a very satisfying Thanksgiving dinner, or maybe because I am sick and tired of those city birds who try to lay all the cost of living on the farmer, that I'm provoked.
This particular bird, a guy by the name of Herman W. Nichols, raves about the probabilities that the dinner cost $23 for eight, and proceeds to tell how it could have been reduced to $5.50 by the simple expedient of substituting margarine if it should so wish my mouth after saying that dirty words at 38 cents for butter at 75 cents, and pork chops at $1.50 for four pounds, for turkey at 75 to 93 cents a pound.
Now anyone with intelligence enough to be allowed space in a paper, let alone get paid for it, should be better at figuring than that.
Let's feed them butter at 75 cents a pound, and a whole hog should be plenty, unless they are so hungry for a really decent spread that they want to make a meal. It says 38 cents for butter. Then should we say eight pounds of turkey at 83 cents a pound, or $6.64, that would be a total of $7.02 for the difference, or $1.91 for eight—a long way from $5.50.
Then said dietary adviser goes on to tell what it would cost to take eight out to a hotel, and places it at around $70 in the best places. There is a nutshell in the answer to the high cost of living. Perhaps I should have said the cost of that living. Now what part of the $3.80, the $12.91 or the $70 dinner did the farmer get?
Well, guess that he got 31 of the pork chops, 10 cents of the oleo, and 10 cents of the margarine. The rest, or $2.09 from the $3.80 dinner.
Now take the $12.91 feed. The

Canada Halts Spud Exports To U.S. Dec. 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—American potato growers won't have to compete with the Canadian product under the terms of this marketing agreement.
The agriculture department gave that assurance late yesterday in announcing that the Canadian government has agreed to halt all spud exports Dec. 1 except those sent to this country for seed purposes.
Profits Registered
In recent weeks American growers and consumers have been complaining that the Canadian government is underestimating home grown potatoes at a time when the U. S. government was spending $100,000,000 to take 3,500,000 surplus bushels off the market.
The department said Canada, in making the agreement, has helped this government materially by recognizing the adverse effect which unrestricted imports of Canadian potatoes would have on the U. S. program.

Cool Attitude Greet Plans For U.S. Visit

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—American policy-makers were reported cool today to Madame Chiang Kai-shek's plan to visit this country.

The forthcoming trip was viewed in some official quarters as a move by China to by-pass the policy-makers and appeal directly to congress and the American people for more military and economic help.

No invitation given. Though it was generally understood that no official invitation was extended to Mrs. Chiang, the state department refused to say so. This attitude presumably was prompted by fear that such a statement might constitute a "loss of face" for China's already hard-pressed nationalist government.

As though in response to China's frantic entreaties for more help, Secretary of State George C. Marshall told newsmen Wednesday that the administration is well aware of the critical situation in the far east. He added that this government is seeking the proper means of helping the regime of Generalissimo Chiang.

Problem Complicated. But Marshall made it clear that the administration (1) considers the problem complicated and is proceeding cautiously; (2) is trying to determine just how deeply this country can, or should, get involved in the Chinese war; and (3) will have to balance China aid against available supplies and "cold war" commitments elsewhere.

Mrs. Chiang said only a few days ago that she did not expect to come to the United States. Her sudden reversal of plans was taken here as further evidence that her husband, the generalissimo, is not satisfied with the present situation and is looking for increased American help. The recent exchange of letters has never been made public.

Mr. Truman yesterday rejected a proposal that Chiang himself be invited here to discuss the Chinese crisis. The suggestion was made by Rep. Bob Bloom, D. N. Y., during a White House talk with the President. Bloom quoted the President as saying he did not believe Chiang could afford to leave China at this time.

Traffic Fines

Clem Studer was fined $10 and $20 for speeding and Alvin C. Byland was fined $5 and $30 for failure to stop for a red light. Walter B. Elliott was fined $2 and $30 Saturday in justice court for failing to have the gross weight stenciled on his truck.

Eight persons paid $2 each for improper parking and overparking in the postoffice zone. They were: Lola Werner, J. V. Telford, Earl W. Leonard, Mrs. Ima Schrader, Donald C. Lenon, Bill Orchard, Aldrich Koeny and A. E. Shillingburg.

A total of 31 persons paid fines of $1 each for parking tickets received Friday and Saturday. They are: A. C. Allen, J. E. Watson, Mrs. P. Jensen, John Peterson, C. Dillon, Mrs. Mitchell, Gary Bean, Fredman Bag company, John Rogers, Fred Paul, L. E. White, Don Robbins, Dale Deagle, W. I. Brooks, G. J. Prekel, Carl Dille, J. W. Cherry (2), Wayne Skreen, Don Weeks, Donald C. Lenon, H. G. Brady, Mrs. Motline, J. L. Muegel, Alvin Halfron, Allen Mader, A. J. Prior, Royal Radio company, Lester Potter, T. R. Jones, Jewell Ablin and Price Holloway.

DIVORCE GRANTED
HADDEN, Nov. 27—Bernice Frakes has been granted a decree of divorce from Fred Arnold Frakes recently by District Judge E. A. Sutherland. The decree stipulated $10.00 court costs and $75 attorney fees are to be paid by Frakes, the defendant.

Local Firemen Will Help Santa Claus

It's pretty difficult for Santa Claus to make a personal call on all the boys and girls in the world and he's bound to miss a child or two. But Twin Falls firemen plan to give jolly old St. Nick a helping hand just in case he happens to miss any youngsters in Twin Falls. Shown with a pile of toys they'll renovate for Santa Claus are, left to right, Jerry Hovest, Assistant Chief Ken Royer and Lieut. George Mann. Hovest isn't a member of the fire department. (Staff photo-enlarging)

Firemen Want Toys They Can Repair for Use on Christmas

Members of the Twin Falls fire department have been authorized by Santa Claus to give him a helping hand this year. So firemen will see to it that some 500 children aren't missed on Christmas.

If they're to please that many youngsters, they'll need a lot of toys. Toy Scouts and Cub Scouts were collecting toys Saturday for firemen, but there are never enough toys to go around. The firemen need all the toys they can obtain.

Just because a toy happens to be dented and scratched or slightly inoperative doesn't mean the firemen don't want it. That's what they're going to be doing between now and Christmas—spending all their spare time repairing toys.

In addition to the old toys repaired by firemen, there will be plenty of new toys for distribution by Santa's helpers, John Batech, Jr., of the Twin Falls Home and Auto Supply company, has donated approximately $400 worth of new toys.

People who have old toys to contribute are asked to leave them at the fire station or Salvation Army. Residents who can't take toys downtown and out-of-town residents are asked to phone 1010. The toys will be picked up.

Santa's helpers don't plan to wait for Christmas. The annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 22 at the Legion hall under direction of the Salvation Army, assisted by the Kiwanis club.

Black Market In U. S. Zone Reaps Profits

MARBURG, Germany, Nov. 27 (AP)—An American official reported today that black marketers had harvested millions of dollars worth of property and cash in this panhandle of the U. S. occupation zone and taken it into the Russian zone.

The official said a campaign had been going on to smash the ring. Its operations reach over into other zones into the American, and most of the profits go to the Soviet zone, he added.

Informants said Russia might be supporting the operation as part of a scheme to drain as much profit as possible from western Europe to finance communist operations other than in the Soviet union.

A high German official in the Russian zone is one of the main operators of the ring, the American official said. The informant added that he secretly could have taken part without the knowledge of the Russians.

About 35 Germans were sentenced for driving some 140 stolen American cars into the Russian zone.

Holiday Program Staged by Pupils

FAIRFIELD, Nov. 27—A Thanksgiving program was given by Coral school children.

Led by their teacher, Joy Strickland, the pupils presented a 30-minute skit. Featured were Arvid Laurentsen, Marjorie Howard and Evelyn Shaw.

Dancing followed the program. Music was furnished by Carol Fay, Joy Strickland, Ann and Elva Fay, Marnie and Lucille Shaw, Boyd Harrison, Forrest Markey, George Miller, Ray Streeper, Glen Miller and Walt Rowland.

Army trucks loaded with stolen tires into the Russian zone and selling them, the official reported. The two and a half ton trucks would have brought more than $10,000 in marks at the official rate of exchange.

Presbyterians Plan Youth Facilities to Cost $125,000

Architect's drawing above shows the present Presbyterian church at the left, a proposed classroom unit and courtyard next to it, and a proposed parish house on the right. Above the parish house floor is a Celtic cross, symbol of the Presbyterian youth movement. Purpose of the addition, the Rev. Donald B. Blackstone explained, is to enable the church to maintain an active fully-rounded program, ministering daily to the spiritual, mental and physical well-being of all age groups on a community-wide basis. The proposed addition will furnish space for expansion of the church's enlarged program of Christian education and provide a variety of recreational facilities. Church officers are expected to be necessary for completion of the structure.

Use of the classroom unit for a day nursery is being considered. The Rev. Mr. Blackstone pointed out the various rooms are intended for more than one use. The courtyard in front of the classroom unit will be used for children's activities, lawn socials and berry festivals.

Presbyterian Church Plans $125,000 Classroom and Parish House Addition

Plans for a classroom and parish house addition, to cost an estimated $125,000, have been approved by the congregation of the First Presbyterian church. It was announced Saturday by the Rev. Donald B. Blackstone, pastor. In addition to a large chapel, gymnasium, bowling alley and dining facilities, the 30-room, L-shaped structure will house numerous classrooms and youth into Christian leaders.

It is designed to produce citizenship of a type badly needed in this country and not now being produced," said the Rev. Mr. Blackstone in explaining the proposed facilities will add the church's youth program. However, he emphasized its use will not be confined to Presbyterian youth. The intent is to serve community youth as far as capacity permits.

Cumulation of more than a year and one-half of planning and study by directors of the church permanent building and development fund and a plan of building was reached with a unanimous vote at a special meeting of the congregation authorized the boards to proceed further with the project.

Presiding at the meeting was C. D. Hiett, church trustee. The proposed building addition was outlined by John Breckenridge, president of the fund board. He explained uses and functions of the building and emphasized the importance of the new facilities in reaching and training youth for Christian leadership.

Early in its consideration of the project, the planning board turned decision over to an architectural firm headed by Dr. Dean H. Affleck and recommended the establishment of a plan of building and development fund as the legal custodian of all resources for the project. The plan of building was planned by Paul Eaton, Duluth, Minn., an architect specializing in church design.

His floor plans show a 50 by 120-foot basement in the principal wing, which will be available to the present church structure and almost as large in area. A wide variety of room is provided in the balance of the two-story structure. The classroom unit, facing a courtyard, will connect the two larger buildings.

In the basement will be a large meeting room for Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and other youth groups, three bowling alleys, a table game area, men's club room, shower rooms and a heating plant.

On the main floor of the classroom unit will be housed the beginning department of Sunday school, two Sunday school assembly rooms, two Sunday school classrooms and the office of the director of Christian education. Fixtures and equipment will be small for use by children.

Occupying the main floor of the parish house will be a 30 by 70-foot two-story gymnasium and dining room, kitchen, parlor or lounge room and an office for the program director.

On the addition's second floor will be found an 18 by 30-foot Sunday school assembly room, seven classrooms, 20 by 30-foot youth chapel in Georgian architecture, church office and the pastor's study.

The Rev. Mr. Blackstone said the project represents concrete action by the church to meet much discussed youth problems and the need for youth facilities. It will provide facilities to interest, hold and serve young people and train them to be useful citizens, he said.

Youth Bruised As He Avoids Striking Auto

MURTAUGH, Nov. 27.—Maureen Thorne, 17, received bruises at 2:30 p. m. Friday when he drove a pickup truck from U. S. highway 30 one mile south of the viaduct west of here to keep from colliding with a parked machine, sheriff's officers said. The pickup overturned in a borrow pit.

Thorne was taken to the Twin Falls clinic where physicians said he was treated for a bruised shoulder but had no other injuries.

According to witnesses, Samuel Perrin, Albion, had stopped the machine he was driving just over the crest of a hill on the highway and the vehicle could not be seen by Thorne until he came over the top of the hill.

Thorne told officers a tank truck was approaching from the opposite direction so he could not pass the parked machine. He drove his pickup from the road to avoid hitting the parked vehicle or a collision with the oncoming truck.

Report Holds Robins Plans To Ban Slots

BOISE, Nov. 27 (AP)—Gov. C. A. Robins was quoted here today as saying the Idaho legislature will be asked to outlaw slot machines.

The governor was quoted as saying the 1947 legislation to control operation of slot machines within incorporated villages and cities "had not worked out."

Regulation Intended
"It was the intention in legalizing slot machines to regulate operation of the devices," the governor was quoted. "Instead, revenue raising became the prime consideration."

The governor said he was busy working up a program for presentation to the legislature which convenes Jan. 3.

Studies Bill
He said most of the proposed bills he has been studying are measures worked up by department heads during the past 18 months. He said about 65 per cent were to correct errors in present laws or to eliminate conflicts between existing state laws.

The 1946 legislature legalized slot machines in "non-profit social clubs" and the 1947 legislature legalized the machines within the boundaries of incorporated villages and cities and provided a $500 minimum license. Of the fees, the state and county each receive $125 and the city or village the remainder.

Housing Used As Theme for PTA Meeting

RUPERT, Nov. 21.—"Housing, School and Home" was the theme of the November meeting of the Rupert PTA.

Mrs. Virginia Anderson, former home economics teacher of Rupert high school, spoke on making the house fit for the changing needs of the family, health and beauty.

"Color schemes in a home have more influence on attitude than we suspect," she said. "A kitchen which is light colored makes the housewife aware of the need of cleanliness."

Howard Drury, speaking on conveniences of school, said what used to be luxuries are now necessities and gave as an example the old fashioned water bucket and dipper as compared to the modern drinking fountain. He declared that anything which substantially increases the efficiency of the school is a necessity.

Mevin Gruwell, assistant superintendent of Minidoka county schools, speaking on "Privacy in the Home," said each member of the family has the right to be treated with respect and courtesy.

"The youth of today, with their greater responsibilities and temptations are entitled to a greater share of parents' time within the home,"

Daytime Closing Of Canal Bridge Set for Repairs

A bridge on the main canal over U. S. highway 30 one mile east of Murtaugh will be closed to all traffic during daylight hours for the next week while the bridge is being repaired, L. B. McDonald, bureau of highways, reported Saturday.

Although the bridge will be open to traffic at night, McDonald urged drivers to use extreme caution in crossing the bridge because of an abrupt two-inch drop.

During daylight hours, a marked detour will be used with flagmen at both ends to direct traffic. The detour will start approximately one and one-half miles west of Murtaugh where it will turn south on the Artesian road for two and one-half miles. From that point, the detour will go east for three miles and then back north to U. S. highway 30, McDonald said.

he said.

Lloyd Drury, social science instructor of Southern Idaho College of Education at Albion, spoke on "Recreation and Hospitality." He maintained that he did not see any reason why recreational facilities at the school could not be used by the community.

Vocal numbers were presented by the high school senior girls' a cappella. John Ross, president of the PTA, conducted the meeting.

PTA Officers Are Returned To Old Posts

PAUL, Nov. 21.—Members of the Paul PTA voted to return Mrs. Don Hackney as president and Rose Greenwell as vice president at the meeting of the unit, Mrs. Hackney had resigned at the previous meeting and Greenwell had been advanced from vice president to president.

Mrs. Sam Danner, Shoshone, president of the fourth district of the PTA, and Mrs. John Lenz, vice president for Minidoka county, attended the meeting. Don Dufoe, Minidoka county superintendent of schools, was the guest speaker. His topic was the fundamentals of PTA.

Mr. Dufoe read objectives of PTA and emphasized that the child was the main objective. He reported on progress under the school reorganization plan.

Mrs. Lawrence Mellor, teacher of the first grade, gave a reading, and Marilyn Hammond played a piano solo. Refreshments were served by Mrs. and Mrs. L. R. Calcutt, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hackney, Mr. and Mrs. M. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Peck.

Fifteen more parents joined the unit at the session. Next meeting will be held Dec. 14.

Tree Windbreaks Lauded by Agent

SHOSHONE, Nov. 21.—Lincoln county farmers who have planted windbreaks on their farms realize that their action is well worth the effort, according to George Cook, county extension agent.

He said price lists for trees to be used in windbreaks would be available in his office by Wednesday and urged other farmers to plant windbreaks. The ordering season will start Dec. 1, this year instead of Jan. 1 as in previous years. The University of Idaho nursery will accept orders until March 1, he said.

He said a three-row windbreak is now recommended and trees should be planted at least 100 feet from the house next to a feed lot or barn. The three-row windbreak requires a strip of land about 30 feet wide for best growth, he pointed out.

No changes are expected in tree prices and the same trees will be available this year with the exception of the Juniper.

TAKE TRAINING COURSE
RICHFIELD, Nov. 21.—Mrs. V. E. Perren, Richfield, has enrolled for a practical nursing course now under way at the Gooding tuberculosis hospital. State tests will be given Dec. 6. The training course consists of 35 hours of concentrated study, two months of hospital work, six weeks in the intercommunal disease ward and two weeks of observation.

Not Missing

BUHL, Nov. 27—Mrs. Margaret D. Hine expressed surprise that sheriff's officers in several counties had been looking for her because she had been reported missing since Nov. 15.

Mrs. Hine, according to reports from the Ada county sheriff's office at Idaho Falls, was last seen getting on a 1935-bound bus in Lewiston. The sheriff's office reported they had been asked by Hual police to search for the woman, according to the United Press.

Mrs. Hine said she had gone from Lewiston to Kampa to visit relatives after attending her father's funeral in Lewiston.

"I returned to Buhl Thursday night with my husband after spending Thanksgiving with relatives," she said.

2 Area Students
Have Play Parts

COLLEGE OF IDAHO, Caldwell, Nov. 27—Family Portrait, a successful play on Broadway several years ago, will be presented by two Idaho students on Dec. 9, 10 and 11 at Halsey Little theater on the campus.

The play is a series of episodes to reveal the lives of those people most closely associated with Christ. Ned Butler is casting the cast of 20 persons.

Participating in the play will be Robert, Bruce, Frederick, and Robert Lee, Twin Falls.

VISITS DAUGHTER

EDEY, Nov. 27—Mrs. Guy Sturgeon visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fletcher, in Pocatello. While there she attended the 60th anniversary meeting of the Ruth chapter, OES in the new Masonic temple.

SYMBOL OF A NEW ERA
IN TRACTOR FARMING

THE MODEL "WD"

ALLIS CHALMERS TRACTOR

THE NEW MODEL "WD" is a full 2-plow, general purpose type tractor, with four forward speeds, and one reverse. The fully equipped unit includes hydraulic control system; power take-off; power adjusted rear wheels; rubber tires; shock-absorbed unit; individual rear wheel foot brakes; adjustable swinging drawbar; rear wheel fenders; platform; muffler; electric starter and lights. Bell pulley, and remote ram for hydraulic operation of pull-type implements, are extra equipment.

You Change Wheel Treads
WITH POWER From Tractor Seat

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN ANY TRACTOR, the Model "WD" gives you the advantage of being able to adjust the rear wheel treads BY ENGINE POWER. Ten tread spacings are possible, within two ranges. One range provides five settings of 56", 60", 71" and 76". By reversing the wheels, a second range is made available, providing five additional settings of 76", 83", 88", 93" and 98". Any desired setting within either range is obtained instantly, using the power of the engine to move the wheels in or out without blocking or rubbing the tractor wheels off the ground. This exclusive feature saves much valuable time during the busy season, and a lot of hard work. It enables you to adjust your tractor quickly, and as often as necessary, to provide the most efficient wheel spacing for every job and crop—narrow tread for plowing; wide tread for planting and cultivating. This quick-change wheel tread feature is an extra value that you get in no other tractor.

5-WAY HYDRAULIC SYSTEM
WITH ONE CONTROL

WITH THE INTRODUCTION of the Model "WD" tractor farming enters a new phase of development. The era of mechanically operated tractor tools is now passing, and the new day of hydraulically controlled implements has dawned.

The "WD" hydraulic system enables the operator to do more work, with less effort, and with greater accuracy and precision. One lever—your control lever, conveniently located at the steering wheel, regulates and controls the action of the hydraulic system in five useful ways:

- 1 It lifts and lowers the implement—quickly or slowly as desired.
- 2 It holds the implement at any desired position—for example, mower cutter-bar.
- 3 It regulates the working depth of mounted or pull-type implements.
- 4 It delays the lifting or lowering of the rear tool-bar for full cultivation to the end of the row.
- 5 It controls draft—acting as a drawbar governor to balance load with power.

This system can be used with pull-type implements, such as plows and mowers, by means of a remote control ram, which is available as extra equipment. The operation of all tool-mounted or pull-type—is greatly simplified, making possible work of better quality, and saving much time and labor.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

By INEZ PUCKETT

The thing that numbs the heart is this:
That man cannot devise
Some scheme of life to banish fear
That lurks in most men's eyes.

—James Norman Hall.

"You have to hand it to the Mormons, they provide amusement for their young people." All of us have heard that. Some of us have been saying it for years without knowing the half of it. For instance, did you know that the LDS Church has a Mutual Improvement Association for its members, old and young? We understand this has been a part of their church program for years, beginning with the children in the "primary organization" (from 4 to 12) and continuing through the "special interest group" which takes care of adults. At 12 years the boys go into Scouting, the girls into Beehive activities. The junior girls' group begins with 10-year-olds, and from 17 to 24 a girl enters the Gleaners. There are similar units for boys and men of these ages. The Twin Falls church has four of these groups with the 12-14, 15-17, 18-24 and the men's Gleaners. We are especially interested in the second group, supervised by a slim, dark-eyed young woman named Mrs. Ruth Paulsen. Ruth was modest about her own achievements as head of these girls but it was easy to see her enthusiasm. "I think what we represent is rather unique," she told us. "The organization is patterned after the story of Ruth; we are planning for improvement in life."

Mrs. P. said the purpose of the club is to know church ideals and learn to meet present day problems with faith and courage. "We are trying to find the road to happiness through love and service to others," she said. The Gleaners girls have an achievement plan covering a three-year period and the requirements include executive and cultural achievements as well as spiritual.

At a girl meets the requirements of this plan she becomes a Golden Gleaner. Mrs. Paulsen said, "To date there are only 1,000 of these." In her own group here she has one Golden Gleaner named Joyce Goodman and Jackie Everson, another member has only one more achievement to win the coveted status. Mrs. Paulsen loaned us her Achievement in Living booklet which contains assignments, programs and plans. Everything is included from athletes to discussions of money, marriage, use of leisure time and church obligations. Whether we be nothing at all, we can admire ideals and good citizenship and Christian living in these things. Ruth Paulsen probably spoke for all of the leaders in these activities when she said, "Our reward is working for a finer and more wholesome outlook for our young people."

The group over whom she is so enthusiastic includes, Zetta Hale, Theda Hull, Marjorie and Colleen Pennock, Rene Sumner, Mabel Ashby, Darleen Murri, Beth Johansen, Thura Hull, June Parkin, Jackie Everson, Mary Jane Anderson, Nadine Williams, Joyce Goodman, Gene Moldenhauer, Cleo Whitten and Beth Gordon.

A. E. Volkmeyer came from Porterville last July but says he once ran the Antler's cafe in Ketchikan. Now he's opening the Shoshone Hotel in Shoshone and plans to have it right up to the minute in every respect. Mr. V. is certainly a booster for his town. "Shoshone is the biggest little city in the west," he told us. "It's on the main line too, with very train stopping—even streamliners."

Lots of callers at our Little-White-House. The first one was an anxious Holstein cow who wanted the yard and stunted old Rags, the shepherd. On her heels came a large and gentle gentleman weathervane. A blue tie that just matched his eyes. He said his name was Bertram and that he handled fire insurance. Mr. Bertram wandered through the place casting a shrewd glance

There are similar units for boys and men of these ages. The Twin Falls church has four of these groups with Earl Freeman and Camilla Freeman heading them. We were especially interested in the second ward group supervised by a young woman named Mrs. Ruth Poulson. Ruth was modest about her own achievements as head of these girls, but it was easy to see her enthusiasm. I think what we need is a "primary" organization in the LDS church. The organization is patterned after the story of Ruth; we are planning for improvement in life. Mrs. P. said the purpose of the group is to know church ideas and to learn to meet present day problems with faith and courage. "We are trying to find the road to happiness through love and service to others," she said. The Cleaner girls have an achievement plan covering a three-year period and the requirements include executive and cultural achievements as well as spiritual.

If a girl meets the requirements of this plan she becomes a Golden Cleaner. Mrs. Poulson said, "To date there are only 1,000 of these." In her own group here she has one Golden Cleaner named Joyce Goodman, and Jackie Everson, another member, has only one more assignment to win the coveted status. Mrs. Poulson loaned us her Adventures in Living booklet which contains assignments, programs and plans. Everything is included from athletics to discussions of money, marriage, use of leisure time and church obligations. Whether we are Methodists, Mormons, Brethren or Catholics at all, we can admire ideals of good citizenship and Christian living in these things. Ruth Poulson probably spoke for all of the leaders in these activities when she said, "Our reward is working for a finer and more wholesome outlook for our young people."

The group over whom she is so enthusiastic includes, Zetta Hale, Theda Hull, Marjorie and Colleen Pennek, Rene Sumner, Mabel Alby, Darlene Murr, Beth Johansen, Thirsa Hull, June Parkin, Jackie Everson, Mary Jane Anderson, Nadine Williams, Joyce Goodman, Gene Neldrauer, Cleo Whitten and Beth Gordon.

A. E. Voldmeyer came from Pocatello last July but says he once ran the Antler's cafe in Ketchikan. Now he's opening the Shoshone hotel in Shoshone and plans to have it right up to the minute in every respect. Mr. V. is certainly a booster for his town. "Shoshone is the biggest little city in the west," he told us. "It's on the main line too, with every train stopping—even streamliners!"

Lots of callers at our Little-High-Low. The first one was an anxious Hoboken cow who wanted the yard and wanted old Rag, the sheepdog. On her heels came a large and genial gentleman wearing a blue tie that just matched his eyes. He said his name was Beem and that he handled fire insurance. Mr. Beem wandered through the place casting a furtive glance
